INTRODUCTION

THE CULTURE CRISIS

We are in the midst of the most accelerated cultural collapse in modern times.

The cultural crisis we face today represents a direct and relentless challenge to and rejection of Biblical values and Christian principles.

Every foundational element of Western Society has been targeted for destruction – from the value of human life to protecting the family and parental rights, protecting girls and women from exploitation, protecting the innocence of children, enforcing the rule of law, securing our national borders from illegal immigration, and even our most basic God-given rights to free speech, religious expression, and the right to protect our loved ones from harm.

Good is called evil and evil is called good.

Today, the enemy is actively targeting, infiltrating, and manipulating every aspect of the culture including religion, the family, education, government, media, entertainment, and business.

Behaviors that were once unthinkable are now not only acceptable, but celebrated.

And, those who dare to share principles from a Biblical Worldview are considered hateful and intolerant; expressing support of life or even traditional family values can get your canceled and even cost you your job.

To compare today's culture to the days of Noah described in Genesis 6 isn't even a stretch.

Back then, there was a widespread rejection of God's moral law, corruption, violence, and depravity that led to a cultural collapse.

Sound familiar?

GODLY PEOPLE "SIT IT OUT"

Remaining silent or passive in the face of moral crises is not an option for Christians.

When godly people "sit it out", godlessness "steps up."

Incredibly, thousands of church leaders and Pastors have largely decided to disengage from the "culture war":

- They've neglected to disciple and instruct believers with Biblical Truth for life.
- They've decided to avoid all the issues that might be seen as "political" and have abdicated their role of providing moral leadership for the challenges of everyday life.
- They've declined to be specific when instructing us about how to actually be salt and light in practical ways when dealing with real-life threats to our faith, families, and freedom.

On top of that, Barna Research recently reported that up to 41 million Christians planned to "sit it out" this election cycle with excuses ranging from "I'm not interested in politics" to "I don't like either candidate", and even "My vote won't make a difference."

You have to wonder – if Christians won't even participate in the anonymous, nobody-knows-who-you-chose voting booth, what other ways are they passively disengaging from sharing their faith with others?

When godly voices go silent, the only voices left are the godless ones.

When the righteous are in authority people rejoice, but when the wicked rule, the people groan. (Proverbs 29:2) There is a lot of groaning right now.

Well, that's the bad news.

THE REMNANT

While that is unfortunate, millions of believers in the church are waking up and rising up to confront the forces of evil and push back against the forces of darkness.

Believers recognize who the real enemy is and actively engage in the spiritual world with prayer and fasting. Two verses in particular remind us where our true power comes from:

- “For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms.”(Ephesians 6:12)
- “The weapons we fight with are not the weapons of the world. On the contrary, they have divine power to demolish strongholds.” (2 Corinthians 10:4)

Battles happening in the spiritual realm always spill over into our human experience.

We engage in the spiritual realm and then show up in the physical. We put on the armor of God, are filled with the power of the Holy Spirit, then enter the fray.

The Bible encourages us to speak up for righteousness, to defend the voiceless, and to oppose injustice (Proverbs 31:8-9). Whether it is protecting innocent life, preserving the biblical family, or ensuring justice and fairness in society, Christians are called to take a stand.

Our duty is to bring our beliefs and values to bear in the world around us, as faith without action is dead (James 2:26). Therefore, we must bring our biblical worldview into the public square, shaping laws and policies that align with God’s truth and moral order. In doing so, we demonstrate that our faith is not only personal but transformative, seeking to impact every part of society for the glory of God.

The remnant of church leaders and Pastors that are faithfully proclaiming God’s truth gives us hope, but even more encouraging is that the body of Christ has decided to “lead up” and represent truth in the public square, regardless of whether their leaders do.

They have realized that while their faith is deeply personal, it’s never private. We don’t leave our faith behind when we leave our homes and enter the public square.

GOD’S DESIGN – OUR CALLING

The Good News is that God’s design is for human flourishing and freedom to abound. Jesus set us free and came to give us life to the full.

And, He has strategically positioned and called followers of Christ to engage in the battle, to bring our beliefs and values to every aspect of culture (including politics), to bring God’s Kingdom here, now. When the disciples asked Jesus to teach them to pray, Jesus said “... Thy kingdom come, they will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.” (Mat. 6:33)

It’s not merely a suggestion, it’s a calling and duty.

As Christians, we must recognize that the key political issues of our time are, at their core, moral issues that the Bible addresses fully.

Religion isn’t becoming more political; politics is becoming more religious.

“For our struggle is not against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the powers of this dark world and against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly realms

Ephesians 6:12

We represent Jesus and His Kingdom everywhere at all times.

We are witnessing a resurgence of believers who “understand the times and know what to do.” (1 Chronicles 12:32) They are applying a Biblical Worldview to every aspect of life.

As Christians, our call is to engage with the world through a biblical lens, standing firm in our faith and advancing God’s kingdom on Earth in four key ways:

- Salt – “You are the salt of the earth.” (Mat. 5:13) – We slow the decay of culture. When we disengage, the culture rots.

Salt preserves, purifies, and enhances. Christians are called to preserve God’s moral standards in society, resisting corruption and decay. We are to influence the culture for good, preventing moral decline and promoting godly values. We are called to stand against the cultural rot of immorality, and stand for righteousness, human flourishing, and freedom.
- Light – “You are the light of the world.” (Mat. 5:14) – We dismantle the darkness. When we hide our light, the culture gets dark.

There is no such thing as darkness; it’s simply the absence of light. Christians are called to reflect the light of Christ by living out truth and love, exposing evil, and guiding others toward righteousness. Light guides and directs. It illuminates the path with wisdom and truth. And when we let our lights shine, it benefits everyone and points people to God.
- Yeast – “The Kingdom of heaven is like yeast.” (Mat. 13:33) – We spread through the entire batch.

The Kingdom of heaven has the power to transform every aspect of our lives, our families, our communities, and our country. Nothing is outside the transformative power of Christ. We are called to be transformative agents, gradually influencing and permeating every aspect of life and culture with God’s love.
- Ambassadors – “We are therefore Christ’s ambassadors...” – We represent God’s truth. When we go silent, godless voices get loud.

We represent His interests and ideology here on earth. We reject our personal comfort and complacency because we have a mission to fulfill. When godly people sit it out, godlessness fills the void.

“*We are therefore Christ’s ambassadors.”
2 Corinthians 5:20

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

The Biblical Worldview provides a comprehensive framework that guides our understanding of human dignity, morality, and community. By aligning our lives and advocacy efforts with these principles, we contribute to the establishment of a society where individuals are respected, families are strengthened, and communities thrive. This Kingdom Culture emphasizes the importance of protecting innocent life, promoting the biblical family, ensuring parental rights, and safeguarding the rights of individuals against encroachment from unjust ideologies and policies.

Advocating for biblical values fosters an environment where personal responsibility, generosity, and the pursuit of excellence are celebrated, countering the cultural trends that seek to diminish these ideals. When we promote a culture that values merit and hard work over entitlement and dependency, we pave the way for economic and social progress that benefits everyone.

As we engage with contemporary issues—ranging from protecting children from harmful ideologies to ensuring medical freedom and securing our borders—we do so not merely as a response to cultural crises but as an affirmation of the hope and truth found in Christ. Our advocacy is fueled by a conviction that God’s design for humanity leads to flourishing, where every individual can live freely and purposefully, reflecting the love and justice of our Creator.

Ultimately, embracing and promoting a Kingdom Culture empowers us to stand firm in our faith, actively contributing to the betterment of society. As we fulfill our duty to be salt and light, we help build a thriving culture based on timeless principles that honor God's intentions for humanity.

THE KINGDOM CULTURE VOTER GUIDE

This Kingdom Culture Voter Guide is a Biblical Roadmap to help followers of Jesus engage effectively in the culture to take back ground the enemy thinks he owns. Every step you take is reclaiming territory for the Kingdom of God, advancing into areas the enemy has long held captive. Every issue is rooted in a moral framework established by God's Word. We refer to that framework as a Biblical Worldview. It's the lens through which every follower of Jesus uses to live with wisdom.

The Structure

- Culture Point & Biblical Principle – Each “culture point” that follows starts with a biblical principle that defines what we are for.
- Biblical Worldview – We examine that through a biblical lens and define the Biblical Worldview. We use biblical references and make a moral defense.
- Cultural Crisis – We summarize the current moral and cultural crisis to expose the truth.
- Political Ideologies – We summarize the moral position represented by each of the prevailing political ideologies.
- Kingdom Actions – We make specific recommendations for how to engage and bring God's Kingdom here, now.

THE QUESTION TO ASK

As you evaluate each Kingdom Culture point for your vote at the ballot box, ask this question:

Which Candidate is more likely to support God's Design, creating policy that supports the biblical worldview and results in human flourishing?

Every human life is sacred and worthy of protection from conception to natural death.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- We are all created in the image of God and uniquely and intimately designed by God.
- It's never right to end innocent, human life. Abortion ends innocent, human life. Therefore, abortion is wrong.

Biblical References

Genesis 1:27 – “So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God he created them; male and female he created them.”

Psalms 139:13-16 (abridged) – “For you created my inmost being; you knit me together in my mother's womb...My frame was not hidden from you when I was made in the secret place... Your eyes saw my unformed body; all the days ordained for me were written in your book before one of them came to be.”

Jeremiah 1:5 – “Before I formed you in the womb, I knew you.”

Moral Defense

- The protection of innocent human life is a fundamental moral issue because every human being bears the image of God (Imago Dei).
- Abortion, euthanasia, and infanticide are direct violations of the commandment “You shall not murder.”
- Scripture consistently affirms the value of life, particularly the vulnerable and defenseless, including the unborn, the elderly, and the disabled.
- To be silent on this issue is to be complicit in the shedding of innocent blood, something the Bible condemns.
- Christians are morally obligated to stand against the culture of death and to affirm the value of every life, from conception to natural death.
- The sanctity of life is not a political issue; it is a gospel issue. Jesus came to give life, and Christians are called to protect life wherever it is threatened.
- A distinct, separate human life begins at conception. There is no moral justification for ending an innocent human life – not convenience, circumstance, nor choice.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

As our nation continues to move away from Biblical Truth, we have become a culture of idol-worshippers. The primary idol is individual autonomy completely disengaged from accountability to a higher authority. As it pertains to protecting innocent human life, there are two basic narratives:

- My body, my choice
- None of your business

abortion ends an innocent human life, and eliminate conscience and morality from the decision to abort.

The right to life is enshrined in our founding documents and the moral law of scripture. With the repeal of the Roe v. Wade decision, individual states are left to decide this moral issue. Some states have banned abortion, others have restricted it based on heartbeat, viability, or health of the mother, while others have protected abortion all the way to full-term; some even advocate for post-birth infanticide.

Those who stand up for the sanctity of life, particularly pro-life advocates, often face hostility, censorship, and even criminal penalties. Pregnancy Resource Centers and other pro-life organizations – including churches – are often targeted for violence, vandalism, or political backlash.

Pro-abortion advocates now celebrate, parade, and promote abortion as a moral good.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Human beings have no inherent value; life is completely expendable.

Democrat

Supports a national right to abortion (ending innocent human life) without any limits, using taxpayer dollars to pay for it, and eliminating religious protections for healthcare professionals.

Republican

Supports the inherent value of human life as created by God, defends the right to life, and opposes late term abortion.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote For Candidates, policies, and laws that protect the unborn, defend life at all stages, oppose practices like abortion and euthanasia, and uphold the sanctity of life from conception to natural death.
- Christians are called to defend the innocent and most vulnerable – especially the unborn.
- Offer compassionate alternatives and actively support pregnancy resource centers who save babies and offer life-affirming support to mothers as they decide to keep their unborn babies with resources they need to care for their child.

We are stewards of God's resources and must intentionally align financial decisions with biblical values.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- Stewardship of money is a reflection of what you value in your heart and it reveals if your actions are aligned with God's purposes.
- Stewardship is a matter of trustworthiness and obedience to God and a test of our readiness to handle greater spiritual responsibilities.
- Stewardship emphasizes the importance of aligning our spending and charitable contributions with organizations that uphold righteousness and promote and support Kingdom Culture.

Biblical References

Psalm 24:1 – “The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it.”

Matthew 6:21 – “For where your treasure is, there your heart will be also.”

Proverbs 3:9-10 – “Honor the Lord with your wealth, with the first-fruits of all your crops; then your barns will be filled to overflowing, and your vats will brim over with new wine.”

2 Corinthians 9:7 – “Each of you should give what you have decided in your heart to give, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver.”

Moral Defense

- Spending money with companies who openly use profits to support causes and movements in opposition to Biblical values and truth is irresponsible.
- Supporting businesses that actively target you, your family, and especially your children with ideological propaganda and products that undermine Biblical values and truth is foolish.
- Supporting businesses that promote Biblical values in the community is a responsible way to advance Kingdom Culture here, now.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

Large, multinational corporations today engage in activism that promotes radical, woke ideologies that conflict with biblical values. They intentionally produce products and use profits to promote, support, and sponsor:

- Radical gender ideology including targeting children for “trans-affirming care” for minors
- Men competing in women's sports and using private spaces for women including bathrooms and locker rooms.
- Diversity, equity and inclusion programs and practices
- Debanking people and organizations for political and religious beliefs

Some well-known companies that use profits from your purchases to directly attack your values and dismantle the culture are Target, Disney, Starbucks, Nike, Amazon, Google, Apple, Gatorade, North Face, Best Buy, Dick's Sporting Goods, United & American Airlines,

Ford, banks like Wells Fargo and Bank of America, and many more.

Until recently, consumers would often unknowingly support companies and organizations that promote values contrary to biblical values. Today, the woke activities of companies are being regularly exposed and consumers have significant power to influence the marketplace with their buying decisions. Once exposed, boycotts can be an effective way to create corporate change in policies.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Drive woke ideologies through all aspects of the corporate culture to affect cultural change using laws, mandates and pressure to criminalize biblical values.

Democrat

Drive woke ideologies through all aspects of the corporate culture to affect cultural change using laws, mandates and pressure..

Republican

Let free-market capitalism determine the corporate “winners and losers” by letting consumers choose products and services from companies that align with excellence and values. .

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Stop supporting woke companies that actively oppose your values, target your children, and support and promote cultural decay.
- Start supporting righteous companies and causes that actively promote your values.
- Develop relationships with and support locally owned businesses who share your values and invest in Kingdom Culture in your communities.
- Generously invest in charitable and faith-based organizations that promote Kingdom Culture and provide services that reflect God's love and compassion.

UNSTOPPABLEFREEDOMALLIANCE.COM

Our bodies are the temple of the Holy Spirit and we are individually responsible for stewarding our health in accordance with conscience and biblical convictions.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- Stewardship of our body and health is a reflection of how we value the gift He's given us.
- Stewardship of our health requires that we seek God's guidance and exercise discernment when making decisions that affect our health.
- God has given us the individual freedom and responsibility to care for our own bodies in such a way that honors Him.

Biblical References

1 Corinthians 6:19-20 – “Do you not know that your bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; you were bought at a price. Therefore, honor God with your bodies.”

Romans 14:5 – “Each of them should be fully convinced in their own mind.”

James 1:5 – “If any of you lacks wisdom, you should ask God, who gives generously to all without finding fault, and it will be given to you.”

Moral Defense

- The government has no moral authority to mandate that anyone make a medical decision against their will, conscience, or conviction.
- Human beings have the fundamental right to make personal health decisions based upon their own assessment of the benefits, risks, and alternatives available free from coercion, threat, force, or loss of everyday freedoms.
- Any attempts by the government to force compliance without consent is immoral. Mandates and coercive medical policies violate the biblical principles of freedom, bodily autonomy, and the right to make informed decisions.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

The COVID-19 pandemic highlighted a deep cultural divide over medical freedom and individual rights. Governments, public health agencies, and healthcare institutions worldwide implemented sweeping mandates regarding vaccines, masks, and other medical interventions, without regard for individual beliefs, religious convictions, or informed consent.

Governments, corporations, and schools have implemented policies requiring COVID-19 vaccinations as a condition of employment, education, or travel. Many individuals were forced to choose between their job, their education, or their medical convictions.

Many people of faith sought religious exemptions from medical mandates due to their convictions or health risks. These exemptions were frequently denied or ridiculed.

Doctors, scientists, and citizens who questioned mainstream medical protocols, vaccine safety, natural immunity, or advocated for alternative treatments, have been silenced or de-platformed.

The push for vaccine passports, digital IDs, and health monitoring raises concerns about privacy and individual freedom. The potential for future overreach looms large as governments increasingly intervene in personal health decisions.

Today, a new battleground has emerged over parental consent. In some states, children are being encouraged to receive medical treatments, such as vaccines or gender transition therapies, without parental knowledge or consent. This erodes parental rights and places children at risk of irreversible harm.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Centralized control over public health decisions, including implementing strict mandates, force, and loss of freedoms to gain compliance, ignoring individual autonomy, choice and conscience.

Democrat

Supports government control and intervention in public health, valuing the collective good over individual autonomy, choice and conscience.

Republican

Supports personal freedom in health decisions, advocating for limited government intervention, the right to informed consent, religious exemptions, and to refuse medical mandates.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote for candidates, laws, and policies that:
 - Protect Informed Consent - the right to know the risks, benefits, and alternatives to any medical intervention.
 - Protect Parental Rights – the right to make medical decisions for their children without interference from government or schools.
 - Protect Religious and Medical Exemptions – the right to refuse treatments that violate their conscience, convictions, or health conditions and to have that decision respected by medical professionals, government, and private institutions.
 - Oppose healthcare surveillance systems like vaccine passports and digital health ID's.
- Refuse to comply with government, public health, or medical mandates that violate your conscience, convictions, or medical conditions.

God made Nations with boundaries to be respected; we have the God-given right and responsibility to secure our borders and protect our citizens.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- The Bible emphasizes the importance of nations and their borders, underscoring the need for justice and protection where we love the “foreigner” and yet uphold the law.
- God established nations with distinct boundaries, allowing them to uphold order and provide security for their citizens.
- While welcoming the “stranger” is vital, maintaining the rule of law is also an essential biblical principle. Borders exist to protect citizens from harm, and enforcing them is a way of exercising God-given responsibility to steward the safety and order of a nation.

Biblical References

Acts 17:26 – “From one man he made all the nations, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he marked out their appointed times in history and the boundaries of their lands.”

Romans 13:1-4 – This passage speaks to the authority of governments to maintain order and execute justice. By upholding the law, governments act as servants of God, who established authority for the common good.

Nehemiah 4:13-14 – Nehemiah’s leadership in rebuilding Jerusalem’s walls is a biblical precedent for securing borders to protect people and maintain order.

Moral Defense

- Securing borders is not about rejecting compassion; it’s about safeguarding the vulnerable, upholding justice, and preventing exploitation.
- A nation without borders is not truly a nation, and failure to enforce immigration laws allows injustice to flourish, including the exploitation of immigrants themselves.
- Unchecked illegal immigration creates pathways for human trafficking, exploitation, and social instability.
- By securing borders, a nation honors legal immigrants by providing a clear and fair path to citizenship.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

The current “Open Border Policy” has created a superhighway of human suffering. Human trafficking, sexual exploitation of women and children, lethal drug trafficking, violence, and organized crime are advancing throughout our communities. It’s estimated that between 10 – 20 million illegal immigrants are spread throughout the United States.

Nations are emptying their prisons and mental institutions. According to Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) data, tens of thousands of illegal immigrants with violent criminal convictions including homicides, sexual assaults and rape, and other assaults are roaming free across the United States.

The lack of secure borders destabilizes our communities, erodes safety, and strains resources. The uncontrolled influx of illegal immigrants burdens social services, healthcare, and education systems, further straining resources needed for citizens and legal residents.

Sanctuary Cities do not cooperate with federal immigration enforcement, undermine the rule of law, create safe havens for criminals, and create wildly unsafe communities for American citizens. New immigrants have no intention to assimilate into the American cultural and legal system, leading to cultural divides.

The current system enables lawlessness, criminality, and the abuse of human beings through trafficking and exploitation. Immigration, when legal and orderly, is a blessing to a nation. However, illegal immigration invites chaos, undermines social cohesion, and creates moral crises where human dignity is compromised.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Seeks to erase national borders, eliminate national sovereignty, and expand globalist socialist control. Views all immigration policies as racist and unjust. Uses chaos as a social and political change agent.

Democrat

Supports open borders, more lenient immigration policies, and pathways to citizenship, even for illegal immigrants. Uses illegal immigration to fundamentally change American culture.

Republican

Promotes border security, national sovereignty, and the enforcement of immigration laws, emphasizing the protection of borders to uphold law and order. In favor of the expansion of merit-based legal immigration.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote for candidates, laws, and policies that:
 - Promote border security to eliminate the flow of human suffering across our borders.
 - Uphold the rule of law and protect American citizens from the superhighway of violent criminals, human trafficking, sexual exploitation, gangs, and lethal drugs.
 - Defend the nation’s sovereignty by ensuring that its borders are respected. Support policies that prioritize the nation’s citizens and legal immigrants and eliminates sanctuary cities.
 - Promote legal immigration with compassion that upholds the rule of law ensures proper vetting.
 - Promote assimilation into the American culture and values and allegiance to the nation’s values, laws, and language.

Parents are the God-given stewards of their children, entrusted with the responsibility to raise and guide them according to biblical principles; no government or institution has the right to override this God-given authority.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- God commands parents to “train up a child in the way he should go” (Proverbs 22:6), affirming their authority over every aspect of their children’s education and moral upbringing.
- Parental rights are integral to the preservation of religious and cultural values, and undermining these rights erodes the ability to pass on faith and convictions to future generations.
- Defending parental authority is essential for safeguarding the family structure and protecting children from harmful ideologies and influences.

Biblical References

Deuteronomy 6:6-7 – “These commandments that I give you today are to be on your hearts. Impress them on your children. Talk about them when you sit at home and when you walk along the road, when you lie down and when you get up.”

Proverbs 1:8-9 – “Listen, my son, to your father’s instruction and do not forsake your mother’s teaching. They are a garland to grace your head and a chain to adorn your neck.”

Ephesians 6:4 – “Fathers, do not exasperate your children; instead, bring them up in the training and instruction of the Lord.”

Moral Defense

- Parents, not the government, are in the best position to make decisions for their children’s well-being, as they know and love them intimately.
- Defending parental rights protects children from exploitation, inappropriate content, and ideologies that are harmful to their development.
- Undermining parental rights creates a pathway for indoctrination and undermines the family structure, which is foundational for a stable society.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

Government agencies, schools and other institutions are undermining, dismissing, and bypassing parental authority, exposing children to ideologies on gender, sexuality, social activism, and morality that contradict traditional family values.

There are growing efforts to allow children to make significant health decisions, including receiving vaccines, undergoing gender transition treatments, or accessing birth control, without their parents’ involvement or consent. In some cases, parents are being labeled as bigoted or harmful for teaching their children biblical views on marriage, sexuality, and identity.

Policies in most public school systems encourage secret conversations between children and adults to be kept from parents regarding sensitive issues, such as gender identity, sexual orientation, and even life-altering medical treatments.

Government agencies and school boards have often created an adversarial relationship with parents. Parents are regularly silenced and removed from school board meetings.

The erosion of parental rights has led to a rise in gender confusion, mental health issues, and exposure to sexually explicit, morally repugnant material. The removal of parental input and protection puts their children at risk for sexual exploitation, political indoctrination, and a rejection of faith and family values.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Views all children as the property of the State and seeks to eliminate parental involvement in decisions regarding all aspects of their upbringing – educational, medical, and moral.

Democrat

Supports policies that allow for a broader role of public institutions in children’s education, endorsing curriculum or healthcare policies that bypass parental consent.

Republican

Emphasizes the importance of parental rights and family values, advocating for policies that protect parents’ authority over children’s upbringing, education, and health decisions. Promotes transparency in schools and parental involvement in all aspects of children’s lives.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote for candidates, laws, and policies that:
 - Uphold parental authority as the primary influence in a child’s life, especially in areas of education, medical treatment, and moral development.
 - Ensure transparency in educational institutions, including curriculum and counseling, and safeguard against secrecy policies that exclude parents.
 - Defend the right of parents to educate their children according to their faith and values, including choosing faith-based education options.
 - Oppose government overreach into family life that undermines the role of parents, such as policies allowing minors to make medical decisions without parental consent.
 - Support religious freedom protections for parents who wish to raise their children according to their convictions, ensuring they are not penalized for their beliefs.
- Consider alternative educational options for your children – homeschool, charter, private, religious.

God made mankind in his image – male and female – and this reflects His design and purpose for humanity. Gender is created, not chosen.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- God created humans in His image, distinctly male and female, reflecting His design and purpose for identity (Genesis 1:27).
- Gender is divinely assigned, reflects God's character in unique ways, and gives purpose to biological differences.
- Gender is an integral part of God's creation order, not a fluid, subjective choice; it's an essential part of God's creation that informs identity, relationships, and purpose.
- Embracing and affirming biological gender respects God's authority in creation, honoring His wisdom in the intentional design of male and female.

Biblical References

Genesis 1:27 – “So God created mankind in His own image, in the image of God He created them; male and female He created them.”

Matthew 19:4-6 – Jesus affirms the creation account, stating, “Haven't you read that at the beginning the Creator 'made them male and female'?”

Psalms 139:13-14 – “For you created my inmost being; you knit me together in my mother's womb. I praise you because I am fearfully and wonderfully made.”

Moral Defense

- The belief that men and women are created in God's image gives each gender inherent value. Gender is an essential part of human identity, providing purpose and dignity.
- Gender differences, rather than limiting individual potential, are gifts that foster societal balance and allow individuals to express God's character in complementary ways.
- Teaching gender confusion is morally wrong and accentuates mental illness including depression and anxiety.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

The introduction and promotion of radical gender ideology has infected multiple facets of culture including education, healthcare, and corporations with destructive results, particularly for children. The idea that gender is a choice defies logic and contradicts basic biology. It is a direct challenge to Biblical values.

Gender confusion is being promoted in schools to kids as young as 3 years old. Children are being encouraged to adopt gender identities at a developmental stage leading to confusion, anxiety, and long-term psychological challenges.

In some instances, schools and healthcare providers are making decisions about children's gender identity without parental consent or knowledge. This erodes parental rights and undermines their role as primary caregivers responsible for the well-being of their children.

Medical interventions, such as puberty blockers, hormone treatments, and “gender-affirming”, mutilating surgeries have devastating, permanent effects. People who express beliefs in biological sex, whether in educational, professional, or online settings, are increasingly subject to social and professional backlash. Dissenting voices are being silenced, leading to a culture of fear and self-censorship.

Radical gender ideology has led to policy changes that allow people to access sports, bathrooms, and locker rooms based on how they identify, eliminating privacy and creating unsafe and unfair conditions, especially for women and girls.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist / Democrat

Denies the Biblical and Biological reality of binary gender and God's creative design. Supports and promotes gender fluidity, inclusivity and diversity, including legal protections for gender identity and expression in the workplace, schools, sports, private spaces, and healthcare. Promotes radical, irreversible, destructive medical interventions for children without parental consent.

Republican

Supports and defends binary, biological gender – male and female. Supports protecting girls and women from the presence of biological men in unfair and unsafe environments. Protects the right of individuals and institutions to act in accordance with their beliefs about gender.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote for candidates, laws, and policies that:
 - Affirm the truth of two biological genders and eliminate radical gender ideology from education, the workplace, and corporations.
- Stand against the introduction of radical gender ideology in schools.
- Refuse to allow unfair and unsafe competition in sports between biological men (boys) and women (girls).
- Disciple your children in the truth of God's design for gender – creating them in His image – male and female.
- Support medical treatments to help those suffering from gender dysphoria.

Biological women have the right to compete against their peers without interference of biological males in women's sports and private spaces.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- God created human beings as male and female, each with distinct biological and physiological differences. These differences are not only divinely designed but have practical implications for physical performance, safety, and competition.
- The Bible advocates for justice and fairness, which can extend to ensuring fair competition in athletics. Protecting the integrity of female sports aligns with Biblical values of honoring God's creation and upholding righteousness.
- Scripture emphasizes the inherent dignity and worth of women, seen as co-bearers of God's image (Genesis 1:27). Providing women and girls with opportunities to compete fairly respects their talents, training, and achievements.

Biblical References

Genesis 1:27 – “So God created mankind in His own image... male and female He created them.” This passage underscores that men and women are intentionally created with unique, divinely intended physical differences.

1 Corinthians 9:24 – Paul's metaphor of running a race reflects the importance of fair competition, where each person's efforts are measured within a just framework.

Deuteronomy 25:13-15 – These verses command the use of “accurate and honest weights and measures,” which can symbolize the importance of fair and balanced standards in any competitive arena, including sports.

Moral Defense

- Given the innate physiological differences, male participation in female sports can undermine fair competition, disregarding the hard work and commitment of female athletes.
- Biological differences in strength, speed, agility, and endurance create safety risks when women and girls compete against men, putting them at a physical disadvantage that could result in injury.
- Preventing male participation in female categories respects women's athletic achievements, enabling them to compete on equal grounds and access scholarships, recognition, and career opportunities fairly.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

Recent cultural shifts have blurred the distinctions between male and female categories, especially in sports. This has led to cases where biological males compete in female divisions, raising concerns about fairness and safety.

Young women and girls who dedicate years to training and competition face discouragement and disillusionment when forced to compete against biologically male athletes, deterring participation and limiting their athletic futures.

Biological men are dominating women's sports at all levels of competition.

Scholarships, awards, and career paths that once empowered women in sports are now at risk, as female athletes lose out on achievements and recognition due to the presence of male competitors in their fields.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Protecting Children from Educational Indoctrination & Exploitation

Children have the right to an educational environment in our schools free from social justice indoctrination, ideological coercion, political bias, social activism, and sexual exploitation.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- Parents are the God-appointed stewards of their children, entrusted with the responsibility and duty to raise them according to Biblical principles.
- No government institution has the right or permission to undermine or contradict those values.

Biblical References

Matthew 18:6 – “If anyone causes one of these little ones—those who believe in me—to stumble, it would be better for them to have a large millstone hung around their neck and to be drowned in the depths of the sea.”

Proverbs 22:6 – “Train up a child in the way he should go; even when he is old he will not depart from it.”

Moral Defense

- Exposing children to radical gender ideology that contradicts science creates confusion that can lead to anxiety and depression.
- Exposing children to radical gender ideology that contradicts science creates confusion that can lead to anxiety and depression.
- Exposing children to sexually explicit, morally inappropriate books and curriculum puts them at risk for sexual exploitation and undermines family values.
- Indoctrinating children into radical social justice ideologies like CRT, DEI, LGBTQ, BLM, and Climate Activism creates social justice warriors for causes that conflict with Biblical values and truth.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

Political and radical social ideologies are increasingly being forced upon children at a young age, often without parental consent or oversight. Public schools have embraced progressive agendas that challenge traditional views on family, gender, sexuality, and morality.

Public education increasingly promotes progressive ideologies with children as young as preschool age being taught about gender fluidity and sexual identity, often without parental consent.

Children are exposed to Comprehensive Sex Education curricula that promotes sexually explicit content that contradicts Biblical teachings and promotes behaviors at odds with Christian morality. Public libraries and schools are increasingly hosting events that expose children to sexualized performances and adult themes like Drag Queen Story Hours, all in the name of diversity and inclusion.

Schools are embedding Critical Race Theory (CRT) and cultural relativism, which view society through lenses of race, power, and oppression, while denying absolute moral truths.

Children are required to participate in social justice events for causes they don't understand or that directly conflict with Biblical values. All of these activities are thick with political and moral bias.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Views schools as tools for radical societal change, advocating for curriculums that emphasize social justice, gender fluidity, and anti-traditional values. Seeks to minimize parental influence and control over educational content.

- Consider helping your church start a school delivering a classical education based on Biblical values.

God entrusted humanity with the responsibility of stewardship over the earth, calling us to care for His creation and wisely manage natural resources to result in human flourishing.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- Scripture establishes that the earth and all its resources belong to God, and humans are to serve as His caretakers, maintaining balance and sustainability (Psalm 24:1).
- Genesis affirms humanity's role to "fill the earth and subdue it" (Genesis 1:28), indicating a form of responsible dominion that fosters productivity without exploitation.
- True biblical stewardship respects the environment as a gift to be preserved for future generations, promoting harmony with creation without placing nature above human needs or treating it as sacred.

Biblical References

Genesis 2:15 – "The Lord God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to work it and take care of it." This verse highlights the dual role of humanity to cultivate and protect.

Psalm 24:1: "The earth is the Lord's, and everything in it, the world, and all who live in it." Recognizing God as Creator calls us to honor and protect His creation.

Leviticus 25:4: God instituted the Sabbath rest for the land, underscoring the importance of sustainable practices and the rejuvenation of resources.

Proverbs 12:10: "The righteous care for the needs of their animals..." Reflecting the righteous character of stewardship, this verse implies that care extends to all of creation.

Moral Defense

- Stewardship reflects respect for God's creation and ensures the sustainability of resources for future generations. It avoids both wasteful practices and extremist policies that undermine human welfare.
- The Bible's model of stewardship rejects radical policies that prioritize environmental goals at the expense of human flourishing, viewing people as stewards rather than threats to the planet.
- By promoting conservation, pollution reduction, and responsible use of resources, true stewardship addresses environmental issues without resorting to authoritarian measures or economic harm.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

Climate extremists have manufactured environmental crises as a tool to introduce authoritarian control over human behavior. Their "clean energy" sources are not only not clean, but they aren't renewable either. Alternative energy sources like solar and electric require the radical destruction of the earth and inefficient use of resources to mine the minerals needed. They often use slave and child labor from impoverished nations. Batteries used for everything electric are toxic to the environment and not recyclable. Wind power is also inefficient and destructive to the environment. These alternative sources of energy are expensive and destructive in economic, environmental, and human terms.

The Radical environmental agendas, calling for aggressive regulations and limitations on energy resources can lead to job loss, higher living costs, and economic instability.

All the noise about climate change has distracted us from the real issues of stewardship including reducing pollution and chemical contamination of our air, water, soil, and food.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Supports a globalist, authoritarian control over environmental policies, viewing human activity as inherently destructive, and rejecting God's design to steward His creation for human flourishing.

Democrat

Supports progressive environmental policies, emphasizing the existential threat of climate change. Prioritizes government control through stricter regulations and federal intervention in environmental protection.

Republican

Advocates for balanced environmental stewardship that protects natural resources while allowing for responsible economic development. Supports energy independence, including traditional energy sources, and favors policies that empower local and private initiatives in conservation efforts.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

- Vote for candidates, policies, and laws that:
 - Support responsible environmental stewardship that aligns with biblical values of caring for creation without undermining human well-being.
 - Promote clean energy sources that support both environmental sustainability and economic growth including nuclear power, clean fossil fuels, and natural gas, which can provide reliable energy with lower environmental impact.
 - Uphold a biblical worldview of stewardship that respects God's design for creation, recognizing humanity's unique role in caring for the environment and making decisions that balance environmental health with human needs.

Whenever Government commands us to do something God forbids or forbids us to do something God commands, our response is to obey God and stand up to Government.

BIBLICAL WORLDVIEW

- Free speech allows believers to address cultural and moral issues from a biblical perspective, contributing to a society that values truth and moral accountability.
- Religious freedom involves the right to live in accordance with biblical convictions, even when these conflict with government decree, without interference.
- Jesus commanded His followers to make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:19-20). This mandate implies the freedom to share the Gospel openly without fear of suppression.

Biblical References

Acts 5:29 – “Peter and the other apostles replied: ‘We must obey God rather than human beings!’”

Acts 4:19-20 – “But Peter and John replied, ‘Which is right in God’s eyes: to listen to you, or to him? You be the judges! As for us, we cannot help speaking about what we have seen and heard.’”

John 8:36 – “So if the Son sets you free, you will be free indeed.”

Moral Defense

The Bible teaches that our freedoms—especially the freedom to speak truth, worship God, and defend ourselves—are integral to our dignity as image-bearers of God. When governments or corporations attempt to restrict these freedoms, they are standing in opposition to God’s design for human flourishing.

- Free Speech: Suppressing free speech, particularly for Christians, limits the ability to proclaim the Gospel and challenge cultural lies with biblical truth, undermining the Great Commission.
- Religious Liberty: Christians are being forced to act against their convictions under the guise of “tolerance,” coerced into violating their consciences and disobeying God.
- Self-Defense: Scripture supports self-defense as a moral imperative, calling Christians to protect the innocent and defend against unjust aggression, including family and community.

THE CULTURE CRISIS

The government, corporations, and media are actively working to infringe upon our God-given rights such as free speech, religious freedom, and the right to self-defense. Collusion and coercion between government agencies and social media platforms has been testified to before Congress. In fact, our government is suing to maintain their ability to censor these platforms. Leftist politicians continually call for censorship and control of speech.

There is a widening divide between ideologies that support individual rights as God-given and those that see freedoms as government-granted and thus subject to state control. Secular ideologies often emphasize safety, tolerance, or social justice over fundamental freedoms, leading to greater restrictions on personal rights.

- Tech platforms like Facebook actively work with government agencies to censor content that promotes biblical or alternative viewpoints. Virtually every platform throttles all views expressed that go against the prevailing governmental narrative.
- The rise of “cancel culture” has led to the silencing of those expressing Christian views, particularly on issues of gender, marriage, and sanctity of life, or any view that goes against the approved narrative on gender, climate, and even covid.

POLITICAL IDEOLOGIES (Summary)

Progressive / Marxist

Supports absolute government control and regulation over free speech, religious expression, and self-defense. Does not recognize any God-given rights.

Democrat

Supports increasing government control, valuing the collective over individual rights and freedoms.

Republican

Strongly supports individual liberties of free speech, religious freedom, and self-defense. Emphasizes limited government intervention, allowing individuals to act according to their beliefs and personal responsibility, particularly in matters of self-protection.

KINGDOM ACTIONS

Christians are called to defend God-given freedoms, especially when they are under threat. Our votes should reflect a commitment to preserving these rights for future generations.

- Vote for candidates, laws, and policies that:
 - Protect Free Speech – ensuring that individuals can express biblical perspectives without fear.
 - Defend Religious Liberty – protecting individuals from being coerced into silence or violating their beliefs.
 - Uphold the Second Amendment – protecting the right to bear arms and resisting efforts to infringe on the God-given right to self-defense.
- Exercise your rights both privately and in the public square.
- Obey God over government.
